

Photo coverage from the curatorial tour of the exhibition “One in Three”

As part of the 18th Singer Festival, two curatorial tours of the Warsaw Ghetto Museum’s open-air exhibition – “One in Three,” presented at Grzybowski Square – took place on August 23 and 24, led by Dr. Wiesława Młynarczyk.

The exhibition consists of over 70 reproductions of photographs from archives around the world – the Washington United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, the German Bundesarchiv, the Austrian National Library, Yad Vashem in Jerusalem, as well as the Jewish Historical Institute in Warsaw and, of course, our museum.

Thematically grouped according to different aspects of life in the Warsaw Ghetto, the archival images provide an opportunity to come into contact with the world that no longer exists and its inhabitants, who, faced with tragic living conditions, tried to save as much of it as possible.
